Editorially Speaking

A lot of baseball fans in the Kansas City Area are awaiting the next few weeks with great curiosity and to say the least, somewhat bated breath. We are waiting Arnold Johnson's move in the trading arena and wondering if the rumors that are current almost everywhere are going to come true.

Mr. Johnson has shown a great adroitness in his trades and for an "amateur" he has been remarkable. Of course, he has had the advice and help of some of the best brains in baseball, but it is extremely strange that nearly every move has improved the club and none have weakened it —a terrific record in baseball or any other activity and the "brain trust" and Mr. Johnson deserve a lot of credit and are receiving it from unprejudiced observers.

Last year these folks came up with the man who may be the Kansas City A's greatest star to date. No, we don't mean Bob Cerv. Bob had his greatest hour this year and we will never forget his great stardom in May and June when he set the league on fire leading the league in several ways, making the All Star Team and almost single handedly keeping the A's in the first division.

But Bob is not the great star of the class of Mickey and Yogi and Stan and Hank because if he were he would have continued his barrage into July, August and September, and the A's could have easily finished in the first division carried by Bob's big bat as he carried them in the first half of the season.

This shows what one super-star can do and emphasizes what Bob did in the early part of his greatest season.

We believe that Mr. Johnson euchred Frank Lane out of a potential super-star, namely Roger Maris. He showed what he could do after he came to the A's and got a chance to play regularly. He has apparently all the necessary horses, including will to win and desire. And since he has been passed over by the Indian organization he is hungry, a tremendous asset for a young ball player.

The rumors have it that Roger will be traded, probably to the Yanks. The latter, of course, from those who have dubbed us the Yankee farm club. But there are strong indications in the minds of many baseball writers that Maris will be playing somewhere else next year. He is terrific trade bait and with Arnold's reputation many folks think—well, they just think, talk and write.

Maybe Rog has a defect that will prevent him from becoming a super-star that is not apparent to the fans but is known to the brain trust. If so he should be traded, if such a trade would help the club, before the first glimmer of glamor wears off.

But if there is no defect apparent let us remember that one man almost single handedly transformed the A's from an also ran second division club into a first division outfit the first half of the '58 season by being a temporary super-star, namely Bob Cerv.

It takes a super-star to make a club. Put together 4 or 5 good run of the mine big league ball players, a few better than average performers, some good pitchers and at least one super-star, preferably two, and you have a pennant and World Series winner, as happened to the Giants in '54.

So all of us hope that if Roger Maris has the slightest chance of becoming a super-star then for goodness sake let's never, never trade him. No team can ever finish 1 to 4 without at least one super-star. Right now the A's don't have one.

If Rog improves a lot next year, and he should since he is still a kid, and Bob Cerv should perchance repeat, even the hated Yanks might be disturbed if not dethroned.

Little Known Medical History

Charles C. Dennie

It is said that Dr. Crile and the Mayo brothers once asked permission to visit Dr. Arthur Hertzler's hospital in order to observe his operative procedure in removing thyroid glands.

He met them at the depot in his jalopy, dressed in a coat, pants, and vest, none of which matched. He took them by the hospital and stopped just long enough to have his instruments and sterile dressings thrown into the car. Then they proceeded to the country where he had a major operation to perform on a farm woman. He used the kitchen table for his operating table. He had Dr. Crile give the anesthetic and had the two Mayor brothers assist him with the operation. It was a success. He said there was too much fuss about operations and he just wanted to show them that it could be done in a farm house as well as in the hospital.

He then took them to his hide-out in the country where they were served an excellent meal. After dinner he put them on the train and they never saw the inside of his hospital.

I don't vouch for the veracity of this story, but ain't it a cool one?

Ralph E. Duncan, Carroll P. Hungate and William F. Bell attended the Civil Defense Conference in Chicago November 8 and 9. There were eleven representatives from the state of Missouri at this conference, from Kansas City, St. Louis and Sedalia.

3rd International Congress of Allergology

The 3rd International Congress of the Society of Allergology was held October 19-26 at the University of Paris on the invitation of the French Allergy Society. Over 1000 physicians —biochemists and immunologists attended from 41 countries. The papers were presented in French, English, German and Spanish and ear phones were used as at the United Nations. Pasteur Vallery-Radot, grandson of Louis Pasteur, Professor of the University of Paris, was the honorary president. He opened the Congress by introducing Professor Portier who told the story of the birth of his discovery with Prof. Richet of anaphylaxis in 1902. All the Congressists recalled the memorable discovery. Sir Henry Dale, Nobel Prize winner for medicine discussed the role and action of histamine in anaphylaxis and allergy.

The next meeting of the International Association of Allergists will be held in 1961 in New York. The following named officers were elected and will hold office until the next congress:

President, Dr. B. N. Halpern (France); President-elect, Pr. Carlos Jimenez Diaz (Spain), Vice President, Pr. Jose Quintero Fossas (Cuba), Vice President, Dr. Orval R. Withers (U.S.A.), Vice President, Pr. Erich Letterer (Germany), General Secretary, Pr. C. H. A. Walton (Canada) and Treasurer, Dr. Egon Bruun (Denmark).

3. Cold conization is, with few exceptions, the procedure of choice for biopsy of the uterine cervix. Carcinoma of the cervix begins in or near the squamocolumnar junction. To diagnose, study, and treat conditions in this region properly, the entire circumference of the squamocolumnar junction and at least 1 to 2 cm. of the endocervical canal must be represented in the biopsy.

Environmental Pollutents

Pollution is in the air, figuratively and literally. If one does not care to worry about the poisonous gases that may produce cancer of the lung, or the radiation potential all about us, or the ubiquitous viruses that take the blame for nearly everything, he can come down to earth and speculate on more mundane matters that he can get his teeth into.

The News Letter of June 1958 published by the Missouri Division of Health described Missouri River Water:

"One town's sewer feeds the next town's intake pipes all the way down the river. If a town happened to be near the mouth of the river and the towns above discharge raw sewage into the river, many Missourians find themselves drinking everything that went down the drains of the city upstream and its sewer system—used water from toilets, bathtubs and sinks, washing from restaurants, laundries, hospitals, hotels, mortuaries, etc."

Most of us have known that the Missouri River was not even remotely a trout stream but we had to have water and have lived with it a long time. Our mothers used to worry about our worms but a generation or two later we run onto more important worries. We know that 16 per cent of the population have the little worm trichina spiralis in the diaphragm (30-36 per cent where accurate studies are made at necropsy) and 10-25 per cent have amebiasis depending upon where one lives in this country. In 1947 Stoll in his book "This Wormy World" estimated pinworm infestation was present in 18 million of our people. Later a survey in Washington, D.C. revealed the incidence to be 50 per cent in the age period 6-18 years and 33 per cent in adults.

However we seem to be doing all right with the birth rate going up and the death rate going down, as the older citizens constitute an ever increasing proportion of our population. We have demonstrated our capacity to live in peaceful co-existence with our parasites and germs. We can read someplace every week about the dramatic progress in medicine; the past 10 years being "the golden age of medicine" in which time life expectancy has moved up from 65 years to nearly 70. A logical conclusion from these direful thoughts is that we must be a hardy lot.

Forty Years Ago

Leo H. Pollock

The Kansas City board of health appointed an advisory committee of well known physicians in Kansas City to assist the board in fighting the epidemic of influenza. Of course, the physicians were requested to serve without compensation, which they did. The board of health then proceeded to do as they pleased with the recommendations of the advisory committee, sometimes following the advice at other times refusing to do so. The advisory committee finally refused to serve under such discouraging conditions and resigned, and a member of the board of health thoroughly disheartened with the majority's erratic behavior, resigned his position.

The following Kansas City doctors were granted licenses to practice medicine and surgery in Missouri, on examination and by reciprocity, before the Missouri State Board of Health, September 30, October 1, 2, 1918. Their school and year of graduation are shown: Baker, Wilbur A., University of Kansas, 1917; Belknap, Paul E., University of Kansas, 1918; Hall, Henry W. (Col.), Meharry Medical College, 1918. Nigro, Dominica M., John A., Creighton University, 1918.

Licensed by Reciprocity: Baker, Henry, Pennsylvania, 1891; Darland, Mary Edna, Rosedale, Kansas, Kansas, 1914; Knappenberger, George F., Kansas, 1911; Roe, Benjamin F., Kansas, 1891.

Orders to Kansas City Physicians in the Medical Corps of the Army from November 25 to December 14, inclusive: Brewster, Capt. R. B., to Pittsburg, Kans. State Normal School, from Kansas City, Mo.; Cohn, Lieut. A. R., to Camp Hancock, Ga., base hospital from Camp Sheridan; Crooks, Lieut. O. R., to Camp Beauregard, La., base hospital from Fort Riley; Hamilton Capt. E. P. to Camp Sevier, S. C. base hospital, from Fort Oglethorpe; Hayden, Capt. J. G., to Kansas City, Mo., as examiner; Hearst, Lieut. A. L., to Camp Sheridan, Ala., base hospital, from Fort Oglethorpe; Lilly, Lieut. T. E. to West Baden, Ind., from Camp Dodge; McCartney, Lieut. O. P., to Boston, Mass., from Camp Custer; Middleton, Capt. J., to Cincinnati, Ohio, from Fort Riley; Moreland, Capt. G. H., to Camp Crane, Pa., mobile hospital, from Fort Oglethorpe; Thompson, Lieut. W. G., Holden, to Wichita, Kansas, Fairmont College; Van Hecke, Lieut. D. S., to Camp Meade, Md., from Camp Meade, M. C., from Camp A. A. Humphreys; Zoglin, Lieut. N., to Camp Beauregard, La., from Fort Sam Houston.

Commissions Offered and Orders to Duty on Acceptance: Belove, Lieut. B., to Fort Oglethorpe for instruction; Frischer, Lieut. J., to Fort Oglethorpe for instruction; Hamilton, Capt. B. G., to Fort Oglethorpe for instruction. Leyser, Lieut. J. C., to Camp Dodge, Iowa, base hospital; Lieberman, Major B. A., to Fort Riley for instruction; Marsh, Lieut. H. S., to Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.; Miller, Lieut. M. M. to Fort Riley for instruction; Switzer, Lieut. C., to Camp Shelby, Miss.

Digestive Absurdities: Scientific investigations have demonstrated beyond any doubt the irrationality of the combinations of digestive ferments which go to make up the various brands of aromatic digestive tablets, and all chemists and manufacturing pharamists are familiar with these facts. The excuse for manufacturing them is that there is a call for them. It is a question whether the physician who ignorantly prescribes aromatic digestive tablets is no more morally culpable than the pharamceutical house that supplies what such physicians demand (Jour. A.M.A., Nov. 2, 1918).

Dr. O'Hearne, Chairman of the Mental Health Committee briefed the Council on the action relative to the Psychiatric Receiving Center that had been taken, to date, and again asked the written support of the Executive Council to appropriate leaders opposing the transfer of Psychiatric Receiving to the State.
